This division is divided into sections according to the type of program, ie, music, lectures, schools, political education, news, etc. Each section prepares its own program which is submitted to the central program division for examination and approval after which the daily schedule is made up. All programs are first recorded on tapes. After examination of the recorded program, adjustments and cuts are made and the recorded program is ready for broadcasting. Every transmitter has a studio in which programs can be prepared. Sometimes programs are recorded on the spot, eg, in a factory (Stakhanovite statement). For this purpose, each | | | | | | | | | machines are called "Magnetifon" and are probably made by the AEG (Germany). The microphones are of an American make. Each recording spool lasts 20 minutes.

The Communist Party and the Revolutionary Trade Union have units in this corporation. Many employees are members of the Party because they are afraid of losing their jobs.

The buildings of the Czechoslovak Broadcast can be entered only by possessing a special identification card. The entrance is guarded day and night. The administrative officer of the Broadcast doubles as the security officer.
